DASHING TWEEDS

Dashing Tweeds design and weave creative fabrics introducing you to new colour combinations and textures. Some of our modern urban tweeds use technical yarns such as reflective threads together with the highest quality wools making the cloths relevant to active life today.

The designs originate from our London and Hastings studios where the initial patterns are hand woven prior to production by the best mills of Great Britain. We produce two new fabric collections per year which are available in store and online.

We use British wools from specific flocks of sheep and also source yarns from around the world.

Inspiration for our modern woven fabrics are wide ranging and previous collections have looked at subjects as diverse as visions of space travel, arctic exploration and the colourist painting movement.

In addition to our seasonal collections we offer a bespoke weave design service. Bespoke designs can either be put into large scale production with British mills or hand woven in our Hastings studio.

OPTIONS & INFO

We use a wide range of worsted and woollen yarns, working with Merino, Shetland, Donegal, Lambswool and Cashmere yarn blends as well as reflective Lurex and fancy yarns.

We dye our own worsted shades and work with UK spinners for our woollen yarns. We use a variety of woven structures, up to a maximum of 16 shafts. All fabrics are woven and finished in the Scottish Borders and vary from 235g/8oz to 730g/25oz.

For jacquard designs we work with Stephen Walters in Suffolk.

We can either recolour existing designs or develop new designs on CAD, working with our available yarns and qualities to interpret your design brief.
